

My name is Susan Thomas. I am a long-time resident of Trumansburg, originally from White Plains, NY. I began my teaching career with the Ithaca City School District, teaching at the Enfield, Caroline and Beverly J. Martin Elementary Schools. I am thrilled to be teaching in Trumansburg where I live with my family. I have two children, Megan and Peter. When I am not teaching, I love exploring our beautiful Finger Lakes Region. We enjoy swimming, hiking, biking and running. Reading a good book is one of my greatest joys. My favorite genres are historical fiction and biographies. Our family is very dedicated to the local food scene! You might bump into us at a local farm or farmers' market, or grabbing a cone at one of our wonderful ice cream shops.
